

Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh 2017 Honor Roll

Jewish Federation OF GREATER PITTSBURGH

VISION

The Vision of the Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh is to have a thriving, vibrant and engaged Jewish community. In order to accomplish this, we raise and allocate funds and build community locally, in Israel and around the world.

The Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh will be able to provide the most benefit to our community only if we are true to the following core values:

- We are guided by the teachings of Torah, including: tikkun olam (repairing the world), tzedakah (justice), chesed (kindness), and k'lal Yisrael (peoplehood).
- We aim to sustain and meaningfully grow Jewish identity, leadership and involvement in our community.
- Our work will be carried out within the context of cooperation and inclusiveness.
- We recognize the importance of working in concert with others.
- We recognize the human dignity of every individual in the community.
- We care about building a strong community with purpose and involvement.
- We will establish priorities to accomplish our vision and mission.
- We value the beliefs and opinions of all members of our community.

2016-17 SUMMARY FROM CYNTHIA D. SHAPIRA & JEFFREY H. FINKELSTEIN

“If I am not for myself, who will be for me? If I am only for myself, what am I? And if not now, when?”

Rabbi Hillel’s powerful aphorism from Pirkei Avot, Ethics of the Fathers, aptly addresses how we approach our personal commitments. But it is perhaps even more fitting when we speak of our community.

We all benefit from the work we do to strengthen ourselves and, together, our community. We strive to address the needs of our own community by caring for the most vulnerable among us and supporting meaningful connection to Judaism, the Jewish people, and our Jewish homeland. We also look beyond our immediate environs — to Israel and to Jewish communities in the former Soviet Union, Europe and elsewhere, reaffirming our commitment to Jewish continuity for the long term.

Rabbi Hillel’s profound question — “If not now, when?” — urges us not to be complacent and suggests that we understand the need to plan for the future.

The Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh seeks to live by Hillel’s words. In the past year, we have continued our commitments to the community while finding new opportunities to strengthen Jewish identity and to enhance Jewish life at home and around the world. We meet these commitments through such programs as AgeWell Pittsburgh, providing a continuum of care for some 8,000 seniors, and Rosh Pina, creating a truly inclusive community for individuals with disabilities. In addition, the Federation’s Annual Campaign and Jewish Community Foundation enhanced young-adult engagement with programs such as SteelTree, which empowers young adults to fund relevant young-adult programming.

At the same time, we are planning for the future, harnessing the wisdom of our leadership and the generosity of our donors to continue building a culture of excellence in all we do.

Through a newly initiated Jewish Community Study, our first since 2002, we are identifying areas of strength and weakness, helping to understand what we need to do to ensure this strong and vibrant community of excellence. We are seeking your input through this study. In addition, we are measuring impact through a variety of tools, such as the Jewish Community Scorecard and a rubric to understand the effect of the Jewish Early Childhood Education Initiative.

With an eye toward the future, we are engaged in thought processes to better understand and address the needs of young adults and young Jewish families on the one hand and seniors on the other. These efforts involve long-term planning in partnership with Jewish organizations and community members. They include bringing to Pittsburgh new programs — some of which will fail, most of which will succeed, and all of which will help us to learn what works well in Pittsburgh.

One such innovation, Honeymoon Israel, will help intermarried couples and couples less connected to their Judaism to discuss, by means of a trip to Israel, their Jewish futures. Another Federation investment, OneTable, will help young people create Shabbat experiences in their own way, expanding places and times to explore Jewish experiences for the “do it yourself” generation. All this innovation is happening as we continue to grow our Birthright Israel and Onward Israel programs, sending many of our college-age young people on immersive and meaningful Israel experiences.

Collectively, we are exploring solutions to complex problems so that we can deliver excellence in Jewish Pittsburgh and beyond. We are charting new paths internally, building systemic supports to provide quality opportunities to all and to provide quality service to you. We are evaluating the ways we do everything from fundraising to allocating the money that you, as donors, entrust to us. Just as Rabbi Hillel advised us, we are tending to the needs of our Pittsburgh Jewish community and others in Jewish communities around the world. We are doing it now — even as we strategize about how best to do it for years to come.

Please join us, and help us. Volunteer. Get involved. Donate. Tell us what you’re thinking.

THE FEDERATION'S FINANCIAL RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

The Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh is the central fundraising and planning organization for the Pittsburgh Jewish community. The Federation engages in a wide range of financial resource development efforts to ensure a stream of funding that will help the community remain strong and vibrant.

ANNUAL CAMPAIGN

Federation programming offered through the Young Adult Division, Women's Philanthropy and Men's Philanthropy enables donors to take part in a wide range of meaningful learning, leadership development and volunteer activities. Such engagement leads to community commitment to the Annual Campaign — commitment from donors in their philanthropy and in their hearts.

JEWISH COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

The Jewish Community Foundation enables donors to fulfill their philanthropic dreams and leave a legacy that will impact our community in the decades to come. Resources made possible by endowments, trusts, bequests and philanthropic funds help address pressing needs, enrich our culture and strengthen our community now and into the future.

Donors to the Jewish Community Foundation work with Foundation professionals to choose a vehicle suited to donors' circumstances. Such a vehicle could be an annuity that provides payments during the donor's lifetime; a life insurance policy; a permanent endowment; or a donor-advised fund, which serves as a low-cost philanthropic fund with tax advantages.

The Foundation's Centennial Fund for a Jewish Future (CFJF) provides immediate and ongoing financial resources for Jewish learning and engagement. CFJF funds formal and informal education, Israel travel for youth, Jewish summer camp, and other activities that connect youth to our rich heritage. By removing cost barriers to high-quality programming, CFJF makes Jewish experiences widely accessible.

CORPORATE GIVING

Many corporations and businesses provide essential event sponsorship that enables the Jewish Federation to use community dollars to address community needs.

In addition, the Federation raises funds through the Pennsylvania Educational Improvement Tax Credit (EITC) program and the Opportunity Scholarship Tax Credit (OSTC) program. Participation in these programs results in needs-based scholarships that allow children to attend Jewish day schools and pre-kindergarten programs in Pittsburgh and elsewhere in Pennsylvania.

SUPPLEMENTAL GIVING

Jewish Federation professionals work closely with major donors who wish to give above and beyond their increased Annual Campaign commitments to make an impact in areas they feel especially passionate about.

FUND DISTRIBUTION & PLANNING

The Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh, the largest Jewish grant-making organization in Pittsburgh, helps people in Western Pennsylvania, in Israel and around the world. The Federation works with direct-service agencies to address current Jewish needs and to plan for the future.

The Federation engages a broad cross-section of community members in the funding process, bringing a wealth of viewpoints and expertise to ensure that the programs and institutions that enrich Jewish community remain strong and vibrant.

Funding and planning efforts focus on three areas of need:

- Aging and human needs. Federation efforts help its partners provide services to seniors, individuals with disabilities, families in crisis and others who are vulnerable.
- Jewish learning and community life. Federation planning and funding result in a range of programming. Examples include formal sessions in a Hebrew school, experiential learning, and immersive experiences at overnight Jewish camps.
- Israel and world Jewry. Federation's contacts provide quick emergency response (food and health care to Jews in Europe) and long-term Jewish-identity initiatives, such as educational trips for youth and cultural exchanges with Israel.

COMMUNITY BUILDING THROUGH PARTNERSHIPS & PROGRAMMING

As a convener of Jewish agencies and other organizations that share in mission, the Jewish Federation of Greater Pittsburgh forms synergistic partnerships to address communal needs.

For example, each of three beneficiary agencies of the Federation — Jewish Association on Aging, Jewish Community Center of Greater Pittsburgh (JCC) and Jewish Family & Children's Service — offers distinct services to Pittsburgh's aging individuals and their families. With Federation support the three agencies work under the umbrella of AgeWell Pittsburgh. The result is coordinated case management that enables many elderly people to remain safe and healthy in their own homes. Each $100 spent on AgeWell Pittsburgh services saves $1,500 per senior, if these services allow the senior to avoid an emergency room visit. This $100 spending per senior saves $9,800 when AgeWell Pittsburgh helps the senior avoid hospital admission and $77,000 when the senior can stay at home for a year rather than in a nursing facility.

Another community-building endeavor, The Pittsburgh Jewish Community Scorecard, enables local service providers to assess and address needs jointly. The Scorecard, a metrics-driven initiative, collects data and facilitates review of community performance. The goals of such review are using resources efficiently and identifying actions that will help Jewish Pittsburgh grow.

In addition, Federation programs, initiatives and affiliates offer community-building programs and services. Examples are

- Classrooms Without Borders (CWB) offers Jewish learning through travel and special events. CWB focuses on “educating the educators” about Israel, the Holocaust and Jewish history. CWB also sponsors speakers and cultural events for the community and the public.
- The Community Relations Council (CRC) educates and advocates for change locally, nationally and internationally. Programs have included missions to Washington, D.C.; Israel advocacy training; an economic summit of Israeli and Pittsburgh political and business leaders; and interfaith dialogues. CRC’s Delegates Assembly convenes representatives from local Jewish organizations to reach consensus on issues significant to the Jewish community. CRC’s Urban Affairs Foundation supports initiatives that strengthen the community and region.
- The Holocaust Center of Pittsburgh provides programs to commemorate and memorialize the Holocaust and its victims and to teach the tragic lessons of the Holocaust. The staff of the Holocaust Center works with educators to create age-appropriate curricula and innovative ways of teaching tolerance.
- The Jewish Federation Volunteer Center matches volunteers with community agencies and the organizations that need them. On Mitzvah Day, an annual event that the Volunteer Center plans, more than 1,200 volunteers serve at 115 sites in the Pittsburgh region. Ongoing Volunteer Center options include VOOM! (Volunteer Opportunity of the Month), which enables volunteers to try a volunteer task without making a long-term commitment; volunteer missions to Israel; and projects designed for small groups.
- Partnership2Gether (P2G) celebrates the Pittsburgh Jewish community’s sister-city relationship with Karmiel and the Misgav region of Israel while building enduring relationships. P2G engages youth by bringing Israeli teens to Pittsburgh and sending counselors in training, from the JCC’s Emma Kaufmann Camp, to Israel. P2G supports regional development that helps build and strengthen Karmiel and Misgav.
- South Hills Jewish Pittsburgh increases opportunities for Jews in Pittsburgh’s southern suburbs to engage in Jewish activities. The initiative works in partnership with South Hills synagogues and the JCC.

SUPPLEMENTAL GIVING HONOR ROLL

While maintaining the primacy of the Annual Campaign and its focus on growing the Jewish Community Foundation, the Jewish Federation continues to develop its supplemental giving program. This program engages donors in contributing significant financial commitments above and beyond their commitment to the Federation's Annual Campaign.

The lists that follow recognize donors who, in addition to their commitment to the 2017 Annual Campaign, have made a minimum supplemental gift of $10,000. Listings show the area on which each donor's commitment has made an impact.
